

Early Modern Women

An Interdisciplinary Journal

Invites submissions of articles on the topic of women and gender in the early modern period, 1400-1750. The Journal has now established an award of $1000 for the best article in each issue:

The Forum for Volume 8 will commemorate the 40th anniversary of Joan Kelly's "Did Women Have a Renaissance?"

Topics to be considered may include: questions of periodization (medieval and Renaissance) in the study of early modern women; the shift between these historical periods as viewed by different disciplines; the validity of the term "Renaissance" in a global context. Other topics inspired by Kelly's article are welcome.

Please contact the editors at emwj@miami.edu if you are interested in proposing a topic.

Editors:

Anne J. Cruz, Professor of Spanish
ajcruz@miami.edu

Mary Lindemann, Professor of History
mlindemann@miami.edu

Mihoko Suzuki, Professor of English
msuzuki@miami.edu

Center for the Humanities
University of Miami
Coral Gables FL 33124
<http://humanities.miami.edu/publications/emwj>

To subscribe to the journal, send an email to:
gentrup@asu.edu

